Journalists To Participate In Latin Week

News men from Latin American countries and the United States will be invited to participate in the Pan-American Festival scheduled for April 13-17 on the SIU campus.

Albert W. Bork, director of the Latin American Institute, met with officials of the U.S. State Department and Latin American Embassies in New York and Washington, D.C. last week to arrange the festival, which will have journalism as its theme.

The opening of the Pan-American Festival is being held, in cooperation with the Department of Journalism, to coincide with the first two days of the first Journalism Week at SIU.

A variety of panel discussions, symposiums, luncheons and exhibits will be scheduled, Bork said.

At a dinner on April 14 two medals will be awarded to outstanding journalists or news media of the United States and Latin America on the basis of service contributing to Pan American understanding. The winners will be judged by the Committee of Latin American Studies as well as journalists on and off campus.

During mid-festival, a play by Latin American playwrights Serafin and Joaquin Alarez - Quintero, "A Sunny Morning," will be performed at the Morris Library auditorium. It will be followed by music and dancing presented by the SIU Latin American Organization and the Spanish Club of the University high school, Bork said.

Preregistration Deadline Friday

This Friday is the deadline for preregistration, according to Marion Treece, head of the Sectioning Center.

"Prior to next term, students will have a last opportunity to preregister on March 2, 3 and 4, at which time they will be required to pay their fees," Treece said.

After March 4, the next chance for registration will be the beginning of spring term when late fees will be charged, Treece added.

Convocation Program Features Wind Ensemble of SIU Band

A wind ensemble of the University Band will appear today at Freshman Convocation at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

The program is designed to acquaint and entertain students with the band. Band membership is available to any capable student interested in educational and entertainment opportunities.

NCAA Officials Invite SIU To Post-Season Tournament

The SIU basketball team late Wednesday received a bid to play in the NCAA small college regional tournament at Evansville March 6 and 7.

Earlier in the day NCAA officials had made a preliminary call to SIU officials to determine if Southern was interested in and could qualify for the post-season tournament.

The firm offer was made by telephone after 4 p.m.

Until Wednesday SIU had had no contact with the NCAA. However, some persons felt certain that Monday night's upset over seventh-ranked Kentucky Wesleyan would bring the Salukis a tournament bid.

Only two other teams have been selected for the Great Lakes regional at Evansville. They are Evansville College and Ball State from Muncie, Ind. A fourth team will be picked later.

The wind ensemble, composed of 42 students, is under the direction of Donald Canedy.

The program will feature: "Prologue from West Side Story," "Mt. Marcy March," and "On the Go March."

Images of the lively variety of light music and sound with portions of larger works will also be presented.

Pairings are expected to be announced late Friday or Saturday.

If SIU survives the regional it will move on to the finals at Evansville on March 11, 12 and 13, as it did last year.

This is the fourth straight year SIU has received a bid to the tournament and the fifth time the Salukis have competed in the small college championship playoffs.

The Salukis, who have won eight NCAA games while dropping six in the last five years that they have participated, finished third nationally in 1952 and fourth last year.

Following last year's tournament, which fell during SIU's winter term final week, there was some grumbling because team members were forced to travel to and from Evansville between games to take final examinations.

Only five small college basketball teams have won more games in the post-season classic than SIU.

The Salukis, who finished regular season play last Monday night with a 15-9 record, have met two of the teams already selected in the tournament. Only 14 teams have been named thus far in the 32-team field.

SIU was trounced at Evansville 94-73 earlier in the season, but split with Kentucky Wesleyan, the last game Monday, 81-77.

Electrical Blaze Destroys Southern Hills Apartment

A University student, his wife and two children, who escaped without serious injury when fire destroyed their Southern Hills apartment, have been placed in another apartment in the area.

In addition, residents of the married students living area have started a drive to collect funds for Harold Emme, his wife and two children.

The fire Tuesday night reportedly was caused by a faulty electrical vaporizer.

It was discovered by Emme and his wife when they looked in on their 5-month-old daughter, Beth Ann. The baby, who suffered minor burns, was crying. Her brother, Jeff, 4, asleep in the same room, was not hurt.

The vaporizer was between the baby's crib and Jeff's bed, above them. When the wiring caught fire, the baby awoke and began crying.

Thomas Jackson, who lives in another wing, said he emptied a fire extinguisher on the beds, then went for another, which he also emptied. He said the blaze apparently was out but started up again.

Residents, the Southern Hills maintenance crew and the Carbondale Fire Department had the blaze out by 10:30 p.m., about an hour after it was discovered.

The Emme's apartment was damaged heavily by the flames and by heavy black smoke and water. Heavy water damage was done to the apartment below the ruined one. It is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jenaro J. Artiles. He is a professor of foreign languages.

Other apartments in the 24-unit Building 122 were damaged by either smoke or water, and occupants spent the rest of the night elsewhere.

Volunteers worked until 1 a.m. yesterday clearing water out of the Emme apartment and continued operations later. Most of the other residents moved back into the apartment building.

The Emmes immediately moved into an apartment vacated Tuesday morning. Other Southern Hills residents in the same building stayed with friends.

Residents are raising funds and clothing for the Emme family, a neighbor said yesterday. Most of the children's clothing, kept in chests, was saved. A few other items were rescued but nearly everything in the apartment was burned.

Ric Cox, Egyptian Reporter, Honored as Student of Week

An Egyptian reporter and photographer who usually writes about and photographs people in the news is now being honored himself.

The Office of Student Affairs has named Ric Cox as the Student of the Week.

A sophomore planning to major in journalism, Cox has maintained an overall grade average of 4.8 since he entered SIU.

Residing at Bailey Hall at Thompson Point, Cox is both editor of the TP Pointer and president of Bailey Hall's second floor.

Besides those two jobs, he is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Sigma Delta Chi, the AFROTJ Singing Squadron and the Journalism Students Association.

Cox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland R. Cox of Fairfield.

Students to Do Summer Study At University of the Americas

More than 20 SIU students in Latin American studies, plus several seniors majoring in photography, are expected to study at the University of the Americas, Mexico City, this summer, according to A.W. Bork, director of the Latin American Institute.

The study tour has made eight previous summer trips to Mexico. This year, a group of senior photography students will join the group to do individual photographic work for credit at Southern. The photographers will be under the guidance of Walter Craig, SIU printing and photography instructor.

Students in Latin American studies will take courses in anthropology and sociology of Mexico, Spanish language, literature and history and workshops in the Mexican way of life. A host of other courses are available, Bork said.

Tuition is $15, lodging ranges between $60 and $80 per month and tourist cards for traveling may be obtained at any Mexican Consulate at the border. Arrangements for the trip can be made at the Latin American Institute.

Joint Tree Project Proved Successful

Thirteen years of cooperation in timber production research by SIU and the Carbondale Forest Research Center of the U.S. Forest Service is emphasized in the Center's 1963 annual report just submitted to President Delyte W. Morris by Robert W. Merz, forester in charge.

Stephen G. Boyce, the Center's project leader for silviculture and tree improvement research, prepared the report. It summarizes joint activities of the two agencies since 1950. Merz says the applied and basic research carried on in cooperation with several SIU faculty members has been fruitful in providing information for upgrading timber quality. The Center, with office space in the SIU Agriculture Building, is one of six in as many states under the jurisdiction of the Central States Forest Experiment Station, Columbus, Ohio.

Beyler Awarded Research Grant

Roger E. Beyler, professor of chemistry at SIU, has been awarded one of 20 American fellowships given by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development for summer research and study in Europe.

Grossman, drums and leader of the group; Jerry Piper; bass guitar; and Chuck Edelhofer, rhythm guitar and vocalist.

'Nite Owls,' SIU Musical Quintet, Talking Terms With Mercury Records For Contract to Cut 'Moving Closer'

An SIU musical group, "The Nite Owls," is negotiating to cut a recording for Mercury Records.

Members of the group are awaiting a contract release from Mercury prior to recording "Moving Closer" which will feature Chuck Edelhofer and Patty Walsh. Edelhofer is the regular singer for the group and will be joined by the SIU coed for this recording.

The Nite Owls have been working together for two years and plan to remain together next year. They have a standing engagement in a local establishment and have played other engagements in the area and in St. Louis and Belleville.

Ken Grossman of New York is the leader of the group, and plays drums. He spends his summers playing in New York and has worked at widely-known places such as the Metropole, Peppermint Lounge, and Basin Street East.

Edelhofer, who is from Riverdale, plays rhythm guitar in addition to singing. He has recorded before.

Jerry Piper of Elkhartville plays bass guitar, and Ralph Goldinger of East Butler, Penn., plays lead guitar.

The group receives an average of $63 a night when playing in the Carbondale area, and $125 to $150 per night in the St. Louis area. The money goes toward financing the members' education and living expenses while they are students at SIU.

The Nite Owls are a close-knit group both professionally and socially, and are considering their future and the possibility of the big time. As Edelhofer says, "We all can dream."

'Horizons' Film Features Lorré

John G. Martire, associate professor of psychology, will present the prologue and lead the discussion following the "Horizons" program tomorrow night.

The "Horizons" film, a 1931 epic starring Peter Lorre as a pathological killer, has as its setting Germany following WW I.

The film, simply entitled "M" was Lorre's first starring role, and will be shown at 8 p.m. in Browne Auditorium.

Martire will analyze the character and personality of the pathological killer portrayed by Lorre.

Student Fined $25, Suspended

A 20-year-old junior was fined $25 and $5 in court costs on an indecent exposure charge and has been suspended effective immediately, according to the Office of Student Affairs.

A spokesman said he would be permitted to return to SIU upon the written recommendation of a psychiatrist after receiving therapy.

The main purpose of this meeting will be to discuss a proposal for possible reorganization of the Association.

"All off-campus presidents should attend because reorganization will effect their voices in student government," Colvis said.

Club Will Discuss 'Absurd Theatre'

Students and faculty will discuss the "Absurd Theatre" at the next English Club meeting slated for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Home Economics Lounge.

Jim Bob Stephenson, an associate professor in the Theater Department, and several students will talk on the technical aspects of play production.

Also on the program will be Mary Hartzog, a lecturer in the English Department.

Shapley Recounts Experiences With Gunfights, Kremlin Ants

Harlow Shapley, professor emeritus of astronomy at Harvard and visiting professor in philosophy here, spoke Wednesday at a journalism graduate seminar on topics ranging from gunfights to water diving to Kremlin ants.

Shapley, who spent part of his youth as a reporter in Carthage, Mo., and Chanute, Kan., related how, one election night, he stood behind a policeman who outdrew a gunman. Shapley said he helped carry away the thug's body.

"Since then we've had two world wars, though," he said, "and people have had more exciting experiences, so I don't talk about that too much. I don't even embellish the tale anymore."

He said he got out of journalism for two reasons: "There was some patent dishonesty with regard to advertisers; blackmail is a hard word...we took advantage of the fact that they needed guidance in placing their advertising." The other reason was that he went to the University of Missouri, intending to enroll in Walter Williams' new School of Journalism, but found that it was not to begin until the next year. He turned to astronomy.

Shapley has a gentle and amused contempt for the dark arts of water divining and spirit contact. "All these supernatural tricks are frauds," he said.

"Don't let them fool you with his hocus - pocus--and that goes for professors, too," Shapley advised. "They know all about hocus-pocus."

He said water divining works because a person wants it too. He said a former president of Welles College once told him water divining works because his mother was one and he loved his mother.

The internationally known astronomer said he became interested in ants while at the Mount Wilson Observatory.

13 Will Attend Baptist Seminary

The Student Baptist Foundation is sending 13 students to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., this weekend.

The seminary is one of six regional Baptist seminaries held yearly and is concerned with students interested in foreign and home missionary service and church related vocations after graduation.

Several hundred college students from the Midwestern and South-eastern states will attend the weekend conference.

The seminary will begin Friday evening with a banquet followed by evening service and a missionary reception.

Saturday will be devoted to addresses and discussions by prominent people in church missionary work. The conference will end Sunday morning after morning worship.

A Word to the Wise

It's enough to disturb the soundest back-row slumbers, or to blight the Picasso in any note-taker.

We refer, of course, to the noise created by our junior Stirling Mosses, who insist on riding their motor scooters in the vicinity of Old Main during class hours.

Some park their machines, motors still roaring, within six feet of Old Main. Others cruise along the drive between Shryock Auditorium and Old Main, where the re-echoing din is reminiscent of the Indianapolis 500. A few persist in starting their machines while parked next to the building, and the racket rattles windows in the old structure.

These thoughtless riders discredit those who do attempt to be considerate. They show little regard for their fellow seekers - after - knowledge or for instructors, who presumably must develop lungs powerful enough to compete with the scooters, not to mention the Illinois Central railroad. They shatter the calm that is the Old Quadrangle's greatest charm.

Our Stirling Mosses ought to remember that use of motor scooters and motorcycles to get to class is a privilege, not a license to disturb classes. The least they could do is to wheel their vehicles to the Old Main gate or to Harwood Avenue before starting their motors. If they must ride past Old Main, they should do so only during the 10-minute class breaks.

We hope scooter and motorcycle riders become more thoughtful before the University issues another regulation to remind them to do so.

Soothe the Savage Beasts?

Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast—or so it has been said. It can also have the opposite effect. Take the Beatles, for instance.

To those who prefer a lot of "Yeah, yeah, yeah" and "ooooo" in their music, the Beatles are heavenly. Their rhythms pulse, reverberate and permeate to the very quick, and arouse the savage and primitive element in the hearts of their admirers.

When the group is performing, Beatles fans want nothing more than to sit around a jungle campfire the rest of their lives, enraptured by the beat of the tom-tom, intermittently amplifying this ecstasy by screaming, writing and frothing on the jungle floor. Or so it would seem.

Book Review

World of Li'l Abner—'Gasp'

From Dogpatch to Slobovia, The "Gasp" World of Li'l Abner, by Al Capp and David Manning White. Boston: Beacon Press. 1964.

Friends of Li'l Abner will renew their acquaintance with him and other famous cartoon characters in this small paperback edition.

The collection of Al Capp's best known cartoon strips between 1949 and 1963 is enriched by the "illuminating" remarks of the creator. David Manning White, America's expert on comic strips, introduces the reader to the "Art of Al Capp." This summary of thoughts and writings reflects the contemporary interpretation of Capp's work and the significance of his contribution to the American scene.

Thus far they have been successful. New York is in shambles. Florida has been laid to waste. Police assigned to protect this group of throwbacks from the enthusiasm generated by their own acclaim have given up. Pulling hair hurts.

One could only hope that the Beatles would not have wide appeal to college students. They are supposed to be mature and sophisticated.

Unfortunately, there seems to be a contingent of college students to whom the sounds of the Beatles mean light, love and all the good things in life. For these unfortunate wretches we can only say, "Alas."

Professor's Blast at Kennedy Stirs Replies From 7 States

"Prof. Revilo Oliver...center of storm."

These were the headlines under a photograph of Professor Oliver in the Feb. 18 edition of "The Daily Illini."

The one-column photograph was surrounded by a whole page of letters to the editor; the writers represented residences in seven different states.

Some of the comments from the letters:

From Dunmore, Penn.: "I urge you to fight for his removal from the University faculty..."

From Upper Darby, Penn.: "It only corroborates my suspicion that you get a one-sided leftist view at Illinois University..."

From Clinton, Ky.: "To my observation and thinking Mr. Oliver did not go far enough in his analysis of why President Kennedy was shot..."

From Nashville, Tenn.: "...John F. Kennedy was the essence of all that was patriotic in the 20th century..."

From Trenton, N.J.: "...Our club group numbering 150 members discussed Prof. Oliver and came to one conclusion...he is causing more conflict in the United States..."

Letter to the Editor

Ticket Buyers Get Leftovers

As a member of the student body of Southern Illinois University, I wish to register a complaint concerning the method used in selling tickets for the performance of the New Christy Minstrels. As stated in the Egyptian, tickets were sold from 10 a.m. until noon by bloc only!

I do not object to selling tickets by bloc; however, selling blocs only is totally unfair to those students who do not desire or cannot get tickets by this method. For example, a student wishing to purchase just one ticket was forced to wait until noon to buy his/her ticket.

From Atlanta, Ga.: "Nothing has ever disgusted me more than Prof. Oliver's Birthite, baseless lies against the memory of a great and good President..."

From St. Petersburg, Fla.: "...my husband and I are astonished and horrified at the completely derogatory and baseless writings against a wonderful, outstanding President..."

From Dixon, Ill.: "Prof. Oliver has forfeited his rights to teach our children any longer..."

From Chicago: "Why don't you try to grasp some of the Professor's common sense..."

From La Grange, Ill.: "President Kennedy was killed in Texas but it took the University of Illinois to really murder him..."

From Chicago: "Either you are for God, or you must be for communism...If you continue supporting, instead of opposing, the Kennedy Administration, the United Nations will run this country, and the Communists will take over from them. This means you will have to share your home, and your wife too, with any filthy Communist demanding it..."

John Matheson

If tickets are to be sold to a performance of a nationally known group, why not make it on a first-come, first-served basis? If a group wants to buy a bloc—fine, but give the student who wants to buy just one ticket the same chance to be first in line.

The way tickets to the performance of the Christy Minstrels were sold, all the good seats were gone before the individual student could purchase his/her seat. This way, the married student or the student who did not desire to sit in a bloc was forced to take "leftovers."

DALE COOPER, NCAA STILL RINGS CHAMPION

3rd Undeclared Year?

Gymnasts Favored to Win Against Michigan Spartans

Michigan State's two-time NCAA still rings champion Dale Cooper may be able to spoil SIU's perfect season's record in that single event, but Coach Bill Meade's Salukis will be favored to complete their third straight undefeated year Friday night when the Spartans call here for a 7:30 dual meet.

Cooper, who succeeded SIU's Fred Orlofsky as national champion in 1962 by outscoring another Saluki performer, Tom Geocaris, repeated last season and is considered one of the all-time ring greats.

However, the Michigan State ace may receive one of his stiffest challenges of the season here Friday when he opposes Southern's top-flight trio of Bill and Dennis Wolf and Charles Ehrlich which has yet to lose a meet this season.

Entitled to three entries in each event, Southern has placed one-two-three in four of its eight meets and one-two in three others. Bill Wolf, a former National AAU rings champ and a new comer at SIU this season, has won six of the seven meets in which he has competed and is expected to provide Cooper's strongest opposition.

The Salukis, now 8-0 for the Fencers Triumph At St. Louis Club

The SIU Fencing Club made an impressive showing at the Men's Novice Foil Meet Sunday at the St. Louis Fencer's Club, as two of the team's four members finished in the top four.

Samuel James of the SIU club finished third and Van Dinh finished fourth. Two other club members participating were Dan Eng and Tom Wham.

The SIU club will play host to two events in the Women's Gym at 1:30 p.m. Sunday season after downing previously unbeaten University of Denver 61-50 Saturday night, have won 26 dual meets in a row since losing to Michigan State during the 1961 campaign. Meade's club won its last four meets that season, added eight more in 1962 and six last year.

Game Fish Grow Fat, Saucy On Diet of Slower Swimmers

An abundance of small bullheads and crayfish in a lake makes the largemouth bass or channel catfish population grow fat and saucy, says William M. Lewis, director of Cooperative Fisheries Research at SIU.

It's not because the game fish prefer munching on the crayfish and clouds of bullheads that follow a successful hatch, Lewis says. The bass may even prefer small bluegills. But--and it's a big but--the bass can catch the bullheads and crayfish easier than they can the bluegills and it's what they eat, rather than what they want, that adds weight and length to the game fish.

Tadpoles? Yes, the bass relish them and they are easily foraged, but for a good old country meal that fills the stomach and stretches the belt, it's bullheads and crayfish on the table.

Lewis's conclusions, which may change the stocking program for Illinois lakes and farm ponds, are the result of two years of controlled feeding studies in 18 small ponds located on the edge of the University's Carbondale campus. Assisting in the research were two graduate students, Don Helms and Mark Anthony.

This research, which Lewis says establishes small bullheads as the number one forage fish in Illinois, could be one of the most significant

Run Against Nation's Best

Tough Schedule Will Prepare Trackmen for National Meet

SIU, the Midwest's top-scoring team in NCAA championship competition for the past two years, is relying on a tough track schedule to ready its Salukis for the 1964 national meet to be held at the University of Oregon June 18-20.

"We're real proud of our past performances in NCAA competition," said Coach Lew Hartzog, "and definitely feel the only way to maintain such a high-level program is by running against the very best boys in the nation."

The Salukis, who this week are competing in the Central Collegiate Conference championship indoor meet at Kalamazoo, Mich., trailed only Oregon, Villanova and Southern California in the 1962 NCAA meet and tied with Occidental behind Southern Cal, Stanford, Oregon, Arizona State, Villanova, Oregon State and San Jose State last year.

Southern will make its outdoor debut March 28 when it will send a full squad to the Arkansas Relays prior to competing in the Texas, Kansas, Drake and California Relays. The Salukis also have three dual meets with Kansas, Western Michigan and Notre Dame in addition to several other appearances.

The complete 1964 schedule follows:

March 28, at Arkansas Relays; April 3-4, at Texas Relays; April 10, quadrangular meet with University of Chicago Track Club, Fort Campbell, SIU freshmen and varsity teams at Carbondale; April 17-18, at Kansas Relays; April 24-25, at Drake Relays (Des Moines, Iowa); May 2, Kansas dual at Carbondale; May 9, dual at Western Michigan; May 16, dual at Notre Dame.

May 23, top team members at Cal Relays with remaining competing in an invitational meet at Fort Campbell; May 30, U.S. Track and Field Federation state meet at Carbondale; June 6, Central Collegiate Conference championship meet at Notre Dame; June 12-13, U.S.T.F.F. national meet at Corvallis, Ore.; NCAA championship meet at Eugene, Ore.; and National AAU meet at New Brunswick, N.J.

Tourney Week Champs Score Well at Purdue

SIU's Tournament Week winners made an excellent showing for Southern at the recent games tournament at Purdue University.

Southern students entered in six events and won three first places and one third place. The Edwardsville branch of SIU also had a first place winner in pocket billiards.

Southern was one of 24 Midwestern colleges and universities represented at the Association of College Unions annual games tourney Feb. 21 and 22.

Southern's chess team placed first in team events. Its members included Owen Harris, Julius Huang, Bill Brockus and Bruce Dawson.

Other first place winners included Herb Sirott, carom billiards; Jimmy Lee and William Yau, champions in table tennis doubles.

Jerry Gretzend took Southern's only third place in table tennis singles.

Number of Jobs Are Still Open

The Student Work Office reports that a number of jobs are open for the remainder of the term.

A number of clerical and secretarial jobs exist as well as jobs in food service, the library, University Center, data processing, and janitorial.

Free Throw Meet Deadline Tonight

Tonight will be the last night for men to enter the intramural free throw tournament.

Those who did not enter the first round of the tourney on Wednesday may do so by reporting to the Men's Gym some time between 8:15 and 10 tonight.

All men enrolled in the University are eligible to participate except those who have won athletic awards in basketball while in college.

The competition will be divided into three leagues--fraternity, residence hall and off-campus. The top ten men from each league will advance to the second round which is to take place early next week.

Cassius Is 'The King'

Soft-Spoken Champ Says He Might Quit

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. AP—A subdued Cassius Clay, the new heavyweight boxing champion, told a press conference Wednesday that he seriously is thinking about retirement from the ring.

"No, I am not joking," the 22-year old Louisville sensation said. "I don't like to fight, I don't like to get hurt. I don't like to hurt anybody."

"I only fight to make a living and when I have enough money I won't fight anymore." Cassius, talking in a low monotone that contrasted greatly to his earlier loud, shouting antics, contradicted himself immediately, however, by saying his immediate future was fighting.

He declared he would again fight Sonny Liston, whom he stopped Tuesday night in the seventh round technical knockout, or any other fighter the public wanted him to meet.

Few of the newsmen took the retirement statement seriously.

Liston said Wednesday that he begged to continue the fight but was overruled by his handlers.

"At the end of the sixth round Willie Reddish told me to keep my left up high. I said I couldn't. He said, 'I'm going to stop the fight.' I said 'no' but they stopped the fight anyhow."

Liston was a pathetic figure when he appeared before newsmen with his left arm in an informal sling made of a blue and white scarf. He wore dark glasses and mumbled as he talked.

The former champion said he hurt his arm when he threw a left hook in the first round. "I felt a twinge—I knew my arm went out," he said.

Final Presentation Set Saturday for 'Dialogue Series'

A panel consisting of four graduate students will discuss "The Technological Order" in the third and final presentation of this term's "Dialogue Series."

The "Technological Order" is a tape recording of a discussion that deals primarily with the problems of the emerging nations as they are affected by the "promises inherent in technological advances."

After playing the 40-minute tape, the graduate panel members will lead the discussion in an attempt to adapt the theoretical approach to practical applications.

The "Dialogue Series" will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics Building.

The graduate student panel will consist of David Sibley and Jeffery Golleit, both of the Department of Geography and Afak Haydar and Arnold Karim, of the Department of Government.

Management Society To Meet, See Film

The Society for Advancement of Management, will meet at 7:30 p.m., March 2, in Room F of the University Center.

Included in the meeting will be a film concerning the proper procedure for conducting a meeting.

"My whole glove felt heavy like it was full of water. When I tried to raise my arm it felt like lead."

The Miami Beach Boxing Commission was swamped Wednesday with wires from all over the country protesting the fight, which was called, among other things, "a disgrace" and "an insult to boxing."

Ed Lassman, a member of the Commission, said the group is satisfied with the medical report on Liston's left shoulder and had turned it over to the state attorney general's office for inspection.

Lassman said the commission was ready to release Liston's purse but would have to wait.

State Atty. Richard Gerstein said "I have requested the Miami Beach Boxing Commission to make all the records available to me."

He declined to elaborate.

Alumni Honor Ex-Athlete

A former star athlete at SIU, Sam Milosevich, has been named Alumnus of the Week by the SIU Alumni Association and will be featured on the SIU News Review on WSIU-TV this evening.

Milosevich, who has been a teacher and counselor at Stephen Decatur High School, Decatur, for three years, participated in basketball four years, football three years and track one year at Southern. He won many honors in football and basketball, received the Henry Hinkley Memorial Award in athletics and was named to Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges his junior and senior years.

Sam was a member of a well-known family of athletes that included Nick of Ottawa and Pete of Louisville, both SIU graduates.

Sam, who obtained his bachelor's degree from SIU in 1947, has a master's from the University of Illinois. He coached and taught at Golconda High School 1947-51, at Warren High School 1951-54, and at Unity High in Tolono 1955-60, when he retired as coach to become guidance director at Unity. In 1961 he moved to Decatur, where he was elected president of the Macon County SIU Alumni Chapter.

In 1948 he was married to the former Libby Bonner of Fairfield. They have three sons, Sammy, Joe and John.

'Off Cuff' Series

Continues Sunday

The graduate students of the Newman Foundation will sponsor the third in a series of "Conversations, Off the Cuff," programs at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Newman Center Lounge.

The topic for this program is "The Purpose and Effect of Sex in Contemporary Literature." The panel members are Ralph Bushee, director of the rare book room of Morris Library; Thomas Cassidy, Department of English; the Rev. John Ralph; and William Simon, Department of Sociology. George Jacobson will moderate the panel.

GASEOUS CASSIUS—Cassius Clay caught in a rare pose—with his mouth closed—listens to words of advice from trainer Angelo Dundee of Miami, Fla., prior to his bout with Sonny Liston.

VA Psychologist to Talk Friday

Jerry Peters, president of the Psychology Colloquium, has announced that the Colloquium originally scheduled for 7:30 tonight will begin at 4 p.m. Friday in the Studio Theatre.

Guest-lecturer Sidney E. Cleveland, assistant chief psychologist at the Veteran's Administration in Houston, Tex., will highlight the meeting.

He will talk on "Body Image Changes Associated With Sensory Deprivation."

Cleveland is also an assistant clinical professor of psychology at Baylor University's College of Medicine and a lecturer at the University of Houston.

He is trained in both psychosomatic medicine and clinical psychology.

Cleveland is appearing here through the combined efforts of the Psychology Colloquium and the Psychology Service of the Marion (Ill.) Veteran's Administration Hospital.

SIU-Purdue Golf Meet Set

Big Ten Conference member Purdue is the only newcomer appearing on SIU 1964 golf schedule.

The Saukiss, who last season posted an overall 13-5-1 record, will meet the Boiler-makers at Lafayette, Ind., April 11.

Other top matches on the SIU card are with Wisconsin of the Big Ten, Missouri of the Big Eight Conference, St. Louis University of the Missouri Valley and independent Notre Dame.

The complete schedule follows:

March 30, Southeast Missouri State, here; March 31, University of Missouri, here; April 3, at Southeast Missouri State; April 11, at Purdue; April 17, Washington University (St. Louis), here; April 24, St. Louis University, here; April 29, at University of Wisconsin; May 5, at St. Louis; May 8, at Washington; May 9, at Missouri; May 16, at Notre Dame.

Knittel to Speak On Development

Robert E. Knittel will discuss the principles of community development at a faculty seminar slated for noon Friday in the Faculty Club dining room.

Knittel is director of the SIU Community Development Service

SIU Touring Theater to Present 'The Rivalry' of Lincoln, Douglas

The debates between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas are dramatized in the play, "The Rivalry," by Norman Corwin, to be presented by the SIU Touring Theater in the fall.

The drama of the two men campaigning for the senatorship from Illinois has been described by a New York critic as "living history, dramatized yet faithful to the facts."

Bookings of "The Rivalry" and a children's play that can be presented on the same date are now being accepted by Jess Turnbow, SIU field representative.

The tour will be made to southern and central Illinois communities between Oct. 12 and Nov. 25, and groups interested in sponsoring the Touring Theater can contact Turnbow by writing him at Division of Extension, Anthony Hall, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

Turnbow said that this is the 13th season the players have toured. They annually play in 24 to 26 towns and give a performance at Menard Penitentiary. The players are graduate and undergraduate students at Southern.

Theta Xi Variety Show Opens Tonight

Planner Sought On Rail Shift

An associate planner to develop proposals to relocate the Illinois Central tracks in Carbondale will be sought.

City of Carbondale and SIU officials met Thursday for further discussions of the proposal for moving the tracks. The city and University have been working together toward this objective.

The joint group asked Frank Kirk, regional director of the Illinois Board of Economic Development, to recommend an associate planner.

The associate will be designated as the person who will "start putting the whole idea together" for the committee, according to a report from the meeting.

Thursday's two-hour session was held in the office of President Delyte W. Morris. Mayor D. Blaney Miller headed the city delegation.

The various possibilities of approach were discussed, including urban renewal, the part the University would play, and finances.

The group discussed the possibility that the project could be largely self-liquidating through benefits, and through the proceeds of the land involved. It has been estimated at a total of about 66 acres.

'Ernest in Love'

Tickets Available

Tickets are still available at the University Center Information Desk for the all-student production of "Ernest in Love."

The show will be presented at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the University Center Ballroom.

Dennis Immel is director of the musical, which is based on Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

ARM OF CONSTRUCTION—The boom of a crane reaches high into the air, above the Classroom Building now under construction. The structure is to be located across from the Wham Education Building.

Drinan Is GS Senator, Choice Of Southern Acres Questioned

Two new student senators were chosen by General Studies and Southern Acres students in the elections Wednesday.

Bob Drinan was elected the new General Studies senator. He polled 94 of the 178 votes cast. Corky Hilliard finished second with 73 votes, and Donna Perez got the remaining 11.

Drinan, a General Studies student from Chicago, replaces Mark Hockenyo, the former General Studies senator, who had resigned recently.

Some question has arisen over the seating of the newly elected senator from Southern Acres, according to Fred Rauch, election commissioner. The student who was elected is reportedly on disciplinary probation for the winter quarter.

The election for Southern Acres was held after the resignation of Bill Wade, the former senator.

Repeat of 17-Act Production And Awards Slated Saturday

The first performance of the 17th annual Theta Xi Variety show will be presented at 7:30 p.m. today in Shryock Auditorium.

It will be repeated Saturday night at the same time with one addition—the annual Service to Southern awards will be presented to an outstanding male and an outstanding female student.

Winning acts in the show also will receive their awards Saturday night.

Only a few seats are left for the show, which annually draws a full house.

Weather Whistle Has Another Test

Another test of the SIU warning whistle is scheduled for 2:45 p.m. next Thursday.

The severe weather signal consists of a three-minute intermittent series of blasts from the SIU emergency steam whistle.

When heard in an actual severe weather condition, the signal means that danger is imminent and all persons should take cover in the designated areas, according to a special bulletin from William J. McKeefery, acting vice-president for operations.

The approved shelter areas are designated by yellow signs displayed in all classrooms, the bulletin stated.

Faculty members who are conducting classes at 2 p.m. Thursday have been asked to announce the test prior to the sounding of the whistle. Classes will not be evacuated, Dean McKeefery said.

"This sounding of the whistle will be to help all of us recognize the signal which will be used when it becomes necessary to signal severe weather," he said.

Master of ceremonies Jim Burke, a St. Louis disc jockey, will introduce all 17 acts.

The first performer will be a jazz group called the Avant-Garde Sextet followed by folk singer Shirley Mertz.

Residents at International House will present the theme from "Three Penny Opera" after which another folk singing act, the Justin Singers, will be in the spotlight.

Tau Kappa Epsilon members will appear in "Spotlight on Lost Horn" and Jean Ingram will sing the blues.

The Dusty Road Boys will harmonize music of the blue grass country. Vocalist Booker Thomas will be introduced next. Finishing the program before the intermission will be Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority in a song and dance skit.

Eight acts are scheduled after the intermission.

First will be Phi Kappa Tau and Alpha Gamma Delta in "The Legend of New York." Patty Walsh will sing folk songs, followed by Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority singing "AKA Sounds and Spirituals."

Vocalist Arla Bohlen will be next, followed by Delta Zeta and Sigma Pi with "Convention Time."

Another folk singer, Deanne Major will be on the program along with Kappa Alpha Psi's "Kappaleers." Final event in the show will be an act by Theta Xi pledges.

After the Saturday show the performers in the winning act will be presented a 6 foot high trophy and the Service to Southern awards will be given to the two outstanding students.

Proceeds from the show will be used to offset production costs and to build up two scholarship funds.

Thompson Point Scholarship Banquet Honors Students

We live in an age in which individualism is increasingly difficult to maintain, William J. McKeefery, acting vice president for operation and dean of academic affairs, told guests at the Thompson Point scholarship banquet Wednesday at Lemiz Hall.

Honored at the banquet were 17 students named to the newly organized Order of the Scroll, TP scholastic honorary; 12 students with overall averages between 4.5 and 4.6, the minimum for the Order; and residence halls and floors with the highest academic averages for fall quarter.

"The professors of yesteryear were able to cover the social studies broadly," McKeefery said. "Most of us today are specialists. If we are generalists, we do it at a price. Our efforts today are team efforts."

He cited Project Mercury as an example of the cooperative nature of today's major scientific and technological developments.

"The individualism we recognize tonight is something we get away from so easily. The age of heroes is a difficult one to maintain today," he continued.

Today youths no longer have heroes they desire to emulate, as many did perhaps 20 years ago, he said.

Harold Hakes, area head, praised TP residents for improving academic atmosphere at the area. Over one-fourth of TP residents achieved grade averages of 4.0 or better during fall term, he said.

Recognized for high grade averages during fall term were: men's floors—first, Pierce third floor, 3.476; second, Abbott first floor; and third, Abbott second floor; women's floors—first, Baldwin third floor, 3.675; second, Kellogg second floor; and third, Steagall first floor; men's residence halls—first, Abbott Hall, 3.370; and second, Pierce Hall; women's residence halls—first, Baldwin Hall; and second, Steagall.

Steve Veach and Miss Eve Murdock, cochairmen, educational programming board, were in charge of the event.

Members of the Order of the Scroll are Michael L. Coale, Roy C. Erkman, Donald R. Harper, John P. Helm, Diane Huisinga, Eileen Kleinschmidt, Jenna McMillen and Sandra L. Mueller.

Also, Barbara G. Nemetsky, Nicholas J. Pasqual, Cheryl A. Prest, Clyde R. Rose, Beverly J. Sellinger, James W. Thomas, Michael L. Yates,
